

To Whom It May Concern:

It has been brought to my attention that the FCC is wishing to increase its local regulatory control, which could have a negative affect on various radio stations. So many stations are already impacted by the increasing popularity of satellite radio. It seems to me that adding the regulatory issues with additional costs and constraints could lead to the closing of radio stations, some of which are my favorit. One example is Air1 radio.

Air1 is a national radio show that is broadcast through local sources. All elements, particularly the music, have been a vital part of my life over the last few years. The music is positive and uplifting. It seems that when I am down, I hear the perfect song on Air1 that lifts my spirits, confirming my faith. These instances help make me a more productive citizen as well, better able to focus at work and serve my patients. Having uplifting contemporary Christian music has been a benefit to our patients as well. My husband and I are both health care providers and we have had our patients tell us that the uplifting music they hear is very calming and healing. We believe in Air1; we commit to supporting it financially in order to keep it on the air. I ask that you do not enact any constraints that could put this radio station or any other from being able to make the airways. It is a constitutional right for free speech. Do not handicap our inalienable rights! Thank you.

Heather H. Bobb, DDS